

ANOTHER DEMON

Kentucky Produces a Veritable Female Jesse Pomeroy,

Who Chuckled With Glee After Murdering Her Baby Sister.

She Says She Is Glad She Killed the Infant, and Wants a Chance to Butcher Some More—Community Horror—Stricken Over the Deed.

DANVILLE, Ky., June 4.—The 18-month-old baby killed by its demon 6-year-old sister, both daughters of Moses Bottoms, colored, at Atoka, five miles west of here, was buried in the colored cemetery near Atoka Friday morning in the presence of a large concourse of colored people, a few of the whites who live in the neighborhood being present. To say that the whole community is horror-stricken over the terrible deed conveys but a mild idea of the situation. The youthful murderess expresses no regret for her act, but says she always intended to kill the baby, and would have done so long ago had she not been watched so closely that she could not. She is fairly intelligent, and never manifested any special viciousness until a desire to harm her baby sister was first noticed when she mashed the poor little innocent's finger and toe-nails off with a hatchet ten days ago. She experienced more pleasure in thinking and talking about what she had done than pain over the severe whipping she received for her unnatural act. When the fifteen-year-old colored girl, who had been watching the children all day to keep the eldest from harming the baby, returned to the room she found the murderess in great glee, and still swinging the deadly club in her hand, while at her feet lay the lifeless form of her victim. Her father, an honest, hard-working colored man, is almost heart-broken over the horrible affair. He lost his wife soon after the birth of the murdered infant, and since then, having to go out to work, the children have been badly cared for. When asked this morning if she would like to kill any one else, she answered that she would like to kill some more babies. It is not known what will be done with her, as she is too young for a criminal prosecution to be thought of. It is probable she will be sent to a school of reform, as it is generally feared that if permitted to go at large she will develop a murderous propensity equalled to no child of modern times, save, perhaps, Jesse Pomeroy, whose terrible murders of twenty years ago are still remembered with horror.

A THOUSAND EACH.

This Prosperous Republic's Wealth in 1890 Estimated at $63,648,000,000.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The census bureau Friday issued a bulletin on the subject of assessed valuation of property in the United States in 1890. Should it be found, upon the completion of the inquiry in relation to the value of all property in the United States, that the same relation exists in 1890 between the assessed valuation and the true valuation as existed in 1880, the absolute wealth of the United States, according to the eleventh census, may be estimated at $63,648,000,000, or more than $1,000 per capita, as against $514 per capita in 1860, $780 per capita in 1870, and $870 per capita in 1880.

"Uncle Jerry" Is for His Chief.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Secretary Rusk, in speaking Friday of the presidential situation, said: "Mr. Harrison's nomination is the only logical conclusion of the unanimous verdict of approval passed upon his administration. The short term of four years justifies a renomination by his party whenever a president's administration receives the country's unqualified indorsement. Moreover, stability of public affairs is essential to the business interests of the country, which always suffers from frequent changes."

Murderer McCoy Free.

COLUMBUS, O., June 4.—Alfred McCoy, the murderer of Dr. Northup at Haverhill, O., seven years ago, walked out of the penitentiary at midnight Friday night, a free man. His life sentence was commuted to seven years by Gov. Campbell on the 18th of last December, and his time was up Friday night. He hastened away with his faithful wife, who had come to share his joy.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Rev. AN ATROCIOUS SCENE.

Drunk Executioners Fall to Kill a Condemned Indian—He Is Thrust Into a Coffin Alive, and Despite His Struggle the Lid Is Nailed Down.

ARMORE, I. T., June 4.—Albert Rennie, U. S. commissioner, of this city, who for a time was stationed at Wovoko, the capital of the Seminole nation, relates an inhuman and barbarous incident connected with an execution at Wovoko. It is the custom to execute those convicted of a capital crime by shooting. The executioners are two members of the National Light Horse, detailed for the purpose. In the instance referred to the victim was led to the rock upon which these judicial killings take place. The two Light Horsemen executioners were too drunk to hit a barn, and their shots but wounded the human target. They left the ground at once, and the Negro brought the rough box coffin to the side of the wounded man, who protested against the proceedings as vigorously as his strength would permit. Assisted by two other Negroes, the man was put in the box, and an effort made to nail down the lid, but the victim pushed and kicked against it so that the task was only accomplished by two of the men sitting on the lid while the other drove the nails with the utmost nonchalance. The internment was then made, but a little unfavorable comment was excited among the many who were apprised of the horrible affair.

WILL WRITE NO LETTER.

An Important Declaration From Blaine on an Important Question.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Just as Secretary Blaine was leaving the White house Friday afternoon, and was walking to his carriage, he was approached by a representative of the Associated Press, who asked him several questions in regard to his conference with the Canadian commissioners, and then, changing the subject, reminded the secretary that in case he had any further communication to make in regard to the political situation the Associated Press would like to have it. The secretary smiled, and, without seeming to attach any importance to what he was saying, remarked: "That's all right, but there won't be any more communications." He then changed the subject of conversation, and courteously averted any further reference to it.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 4.—The press dispatch from Washington stating that Secretary Blaine had said he would write no more letters and make no further announcements prior to the convention were received with rejoicings by the Blaine men Friday evening, and they declare that nothing can prevent his nomination. Indeed, the general effect of this announcement of the secretary of state has been to add enthusiasm to the Blaine movement, and inspire his supporters with increased confidence.

"THE VERY INSIDE."

According to a New York Paper Blaine Has Told Harrison He Was Not a Candidate.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Herald Friday morning published what purports to be "the very inside of Mr. Harrison's and Mr. Blaine's relations with each other," given by "a man of undoubted authority in the White house circle." The situation is said to be as follows: Before Mr. Blaine came to New York he called on the president and in substance said to him: "In connection with my visit to New York you will probably hear that it has a political meaning. A construction may be put on it that will please neither you nor me. I wish to say that I am not a candidate for the nomination, and I hope you will not credit any of these stories that are flying about." To these words of Mr. Blaine, reported from a source extremely loyal and friendly to the president, Mr. Harrison is said to have replied: "I am much gratified at your open dealing with me. I had supposed you felt this way toward a nomination, although some persons have tried to persuade me differently."

McKinley for Permanent Chairman.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 4.—There was no change in the chairmanship talk Friday night. All parties seem to agree on McKinley for permanent chairman. He is warmly supported by the Harrison men, and the Blaine people are apparently not opposed to him. The only question in that connection is whether he will have the united support of his own state.

New Railroad Project.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., June 4.—A new railroad company, to be known as the Chicago, Evansville and Southern railroad, and which is to be built parallel to the Evansville and Terre Haute, was formed here, with Dr. A. M. Owen as president. President Porter, of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, is backing the enterprise.

A Colored Man Honored.

MINNEAPOLIS.

The Skirmishing of the Opposing Forces Commenced.

Each Side Claims That His Man Will Win on the First Ballot.

Blaine Men State That He Will Accept the Nomination—Clarkson Is Working for the Secretary, While John C. New Is Doing His Best for Harrison.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 4.—The hotel rotundas were crowded early Friday morning, and the skirmish firing of the last few days swelled into a roar of musketry as the main bodies of the opposing forces began to arrive. Both sides claim to be equally confident, but it is certain that nothing positive could be expected upon the "claim everything" statements made both by partisans of the president and of Mr. Blaine.

The confidence with which the Blaine men announce that he will accept the nomination, if it is extended him, and the calm assurance with which they are prosecuting the contest in his behalf, has had some weight, however, and the more careful politicians are directing their attention to a diligent analysis of the probable vote of the various state delegations.

In the matter of figures the Harrison managers point to the states which have given positive instructions for the president, and cite the assurances of support which they claim to be daily receiving from instructed delegations. The Blaine people give no details, but claim about everything in sight, not limiting their figures to those states in which no instructions were given, but claiming scores of votes from states positively instructed for Harrison.

Chairman Clarkson, who seems to have been assigned to do the talking for the secretary of state, declared Friday morning that Blaine would be nominated on the first ballot beyond peradventure.

John C. New, on the other hand, who is in command of the Harrison artillery, asserted that the nomination of the president on the first ballot was a fact as certain and sure as the rising of the sun in the east.

Neither faction seems to admit the possibility of a dark horse being presented, but there are those here—old and experienced politicians—who give it as their opinion that the whole thing will wind up, after a prolonged fight, in the nomination of some one who is not now mentioned.

MRS. HARRISON.

Her Condition Worse in the Last Few Days, But the Lady Is in No Immediate Danger.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A special to the Herald from Washington says the many friends of Mrs. Harrison are alarmed at the report that she has grown worse within the last few days. The report proves to be true, but it is not believed that Mrs. Harrison is in any immediate danger. There is no doubt that she is extremely ill, in fact, that it has been deemed unwise to attempt to move her to the Cape May cottage. It has been found necessary in order that Mrs. Harrison should have absolute quiet, to order the Marine band, which has for years played on Saturdays in the White House grounds, to play hereafter in Lafayette park.

It is said that the trial will last a month, and that the state means to contest every point.

Eddy, the millionaire lumber dealer of Bay City, Mich.; and $5,000 by ex-Congressman Geo. W. Crouse of this city. The erection of the building will be commenced immediately.

STRIKE DIABOLISM.

An Alleged Plot to Blow Up a Factory With Dynamite.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The Times Friday morning contained a startling story to the effect that striking workmen have been frustrated in their attempt to blow up the McGregor boiler factory by a mine of dynamite. The plan which the police say they have discovered shows as great a disregard for human life as that displayed by the anarchists of Paris. According to the report wires have been found connecting the plant with an electric battery and a quantity of the deadly explosive. The plot seems to have been deeply laid, from the information which has come into the hands of the authorities.

Three weeks ago three men took rooms in the house at the opposite corner of the street intersection from that occupied by the boiler works. Early Thursday morning a similar trio were found in the vacant lot adjoining the factory by an officer. Though suspicious looking they were permitted to depart unmolested, but further investigation showed the existence of twin copper wires run along the curbstone of the sidewalks and up a telegraph pole at its end. A large coil of wire was also found lying near the pole and a box containing a battery of twenty-one cells in the rooms occupied by them at 102 Francisco street. Until the discovery of dynamite in the house later in the day it was supposed the tenants had intended to make money by procuring early information on the racing at Garfield park track. But the find of the explosive recalled the fact that a second telegraph pole stands immediately behind the factory and that nothing was more simple when the fuse was once connected with that on the pole than to explode a charge against the wall of the boiler works.

The three men, the landlady of the house they occupied, says, brought with them a large packing case which they declared contained dishes. An examination of its contents by the detectives revealed twenty-one jars of electric battery, while in a remote closet of the men's bedroom was found a large package of dynamite.

Mr. Wm. McGregor, the head of the factory firm, says his non-union men have been threatened with violence since the strike of May 1. No arrests have been made, but sensational developments are promised.

THE DEADLY PIER AGAIN.

Wrecking of the John Mathews With the Loss of Several Lives.

VAN BUREN, Ark., June 4.—The steamer John Mathews, loaded with corn, bound for Pine Bluff, ran against the pier on the bridge over the Arkansas river at 1 a. m. and sank. Rescuing parties are at this hour (5 a. m.) trying to save the crew. Capt. Black, the pilot, is lost. He was seen to go down 100 yards below the bridge. At least one-third of the crew are lost. The river is unusually high, and it was impossible for the pilot to steer away from the pier. The engineer, Hathaway, and his family, were taken out more dead than alive.

Is She Again the Widow Rabb?

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 4.—Margaret Rabb intends trying for a pension under most unusual circumstances. She was the widow of Pleasant W. Rabb, but was united in marriage with Wm. Moore. She subsequently discovered that at the time she married him he was a bigamist. She thereupon applied to the court to have her marriage with Moore declared illegal and void. The court granted her the relief asked for and permitted her to resume the name of Margaret Rabb. As the widow of Pleasant W. Rabb, the soldier, she will ask the government for a pension.

Blaine at the Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The regular Friday cabinet meeting was held at the White house as usual, and Secretary Blaine was among those who attended.
